

SULPHIDE ORE IS ENCOUNTERED IN THE DENN

Shift Working in Drift on 1000 Going North Broke Into Body Of Ore at Midnight Last Monday.

Knowledge of Strike Sends Denn Stock Up Grade to the Extent of $20 per Share, and Still Going.

Supt. H. M. Pattison, of the Denn-Arizona, yesterday made the announcement that the night shift, working at the Denn-Arizona in the drift being run due north on the 1000 level, encountered a body of low grade sulphide ore.

The ore was encountered at a distance of 125 feet from the shaft and latest reports from the mine last evening were to the effect that the face of the drift was still in ore. This drift was being driven in the direction of the diamond drill hole sunk several months ago and the appearance of the ore body had been contentedly expected ever since the drift was started.

The drift is going in the direction of the Dividend fault and the appearance of ore at this level carries out the constant predictions of the wise ones who have been promising good things from the Denn for several weeks.

There is no knowledge as yet of the extent of the ore strike but the announcement yesterday caused a flurry on the local market, and as soon as the information went over the wires to the east, Denn stock was closely held and the last markings on the local board was that no Denn stock was being offered. Denn closed on Monday evening at $14.00 and early yesterday afternoon bids of $16.00 failed to locate any of the stock for sale.

The Denn-Arizona company was organized under the laws of Arizona in the spring of 1905, with a capitalization of $750,000, 75,000 shares of a par value of $10.00 per share. Up to date there has been 57,000 shares issued, 46,000 of which are controlled by the directors and 18,000 still remain in the treasury. The Denn-Arizona property consists of approximately 200 acres, comprising the following claims: Triangle, Robert E. Lee, Cotton Tail, York State, Orleans, Bucky O'Neill, Xenia, Exumbar, Orphir, William, Buzzard, Admira Dewey, and part of the John Daisy claim. Martin Pattison is president of the company at Duluth and L. C. Shattuck is treasurer at Bisbee. Byron Pattison is superintendent.

The announcement of the ore body in the Denn caused a crowd to collect about the brokerage offices in the city and bids for the stock came thick and fast during the morning hour before any idea of the extent or value of the ore encountered had been ascertained. A large block of Denn is held in Bisbee where it is a favorite among a long list of investors. The appearance of ore in the drift of the Denn, should it develop into a permanent and extensive ore body means a great deal to the district. American-Saginaw and Warren will be benefited by the good news.

PECK ARRESTED FOR STABBING COMPANION.

Constable White last night arrested a man named Peck for inflicting an ugly stab wound in the leg of "Harry" one of Ed Price's back drivers. The men met in Price's house above the tenderloin, Peck being in search of a woman he supposed was in the house. When Constable White reached the house he found Price armed with a Winchester and butcher knife. Peck was locked in jail overnight.

ALL HONOR TO OLD VETERANS

PROGRAM FOR TODAY'S EXERCISES PREPARED, LINE OF MARCH AND ORDER OF PARADE ARRANGED — E. G. NORTON TAKES STRONG EXCEPTION TO VETERANS BEING PLACED 4TH INSTEAD OF 1ST.

There has been much expression of dissatisfaction at the order of march as agreed upon by the joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the Veterans' committee. Many of the old soldiers cannot see the propriety of being placed fourth in line, claiming that there should be none ahead of them aside from the marshal of the day and their escort. As touching on this point, the Review here prints the statement of E. G. Norton, one of the veterans of the civil war.

"I understand that the Grand Army veterans have been placed in fourth position in the parade to be held tomorrow. This is not right. This is to be the old veterans' day, and they should have the place of honor in the line of parade.

"I for one would never consent to march in a Memorial day parade where as a veteran of the civil war my place would be behind anybody.

"I have marched in several parades on this day which has been set aside for the observation of honors paid the soldier dead, and I have never seen the Grand Army behind anyone. We are usually preceded by the marshal of the day, invariably a G. A. R. man, and with our escort always come next in order of march.

"Possibly it might be that the Spanish-American war veterans should precede the G. A. R. as their escort.

"I see also that they have placed in front of the G. A. R. children with flowers. In my opinion these children should be directly behind the G. A. R.

ALL IN READINESS FOR MEMORIAL DAY

Today's program as planned in honor of the departed soldiers who fought and died in the country's cause will be the grandest pageant ever held in Bisbee.

Those who have worked for the success of the exercises have planned a most elaborate program, and unless some unforeseen thing happens their work will be crowned with results that will long be recalled by Bisbee as one of the memorable events in its history.

The parade will be formed at the Palace Stables on Upper Main street, and the line of march will be down Main street to Brewery Gulch, up Brewery Gulch to the cemetery, where the exercises at the graves will be held. From the cemetery the return route will take the procession down Opera Drive, past the High School to Y. M. C. A. down Howell Avenue to the Copper Queen Hotel, where the line will break, and where a speaking platform has been erected.

Here the closing exercises of the day will be held. Governor Kibbey will here deliver his oration and other notables will be heard from.

The line will form promptly at 9:30, and it is hoped by those in charge of them that the exercises will close at not later than 12:30.

The parade will be in two divisions as follows:

Division 1.
Police.
Drum Corps.
Children with flowers.
Grand Army Veterans.
Confederate Veterans.

UNITED STATES ATTORNEY SAYS HE WILL PUT THE LIE DOWN ON CITY OF YUMA.

The Women's Club of Yuma is making a crusade against the saloons of that city that have in their employ women. For some months past they have been seeking assistance in their fight from the city and the county authorities, but they have become discouraged in not receiving the aid anticipated, and they appealed to United States attorney J. L. B. Alexander. On the occasion of his last visit to Yuma, says the Phoenix Republic, he gave out an interview, warning the owners of the saloons against continuing the practice, and it is said that several of them at once arranged for the removal of the women from their places of business.

There are still, however, several saloons continuing the practice, and it is likely that before the end of the present week he will again visit Yuma and begin action against those who are still continuing the practice. Prosecution will be made of the owners of the saloons under that federal statute providing for the punishment of any person who enters into a conspiracy with a second person to commit a crime. In case a conviction is secured the penalty provides for a fine of not more than $10,000, and imprisonment in a jail for a period not to exceed two years. The interview given the Yuma Enterprise by Mr. Alexander and which he yesterday confirmed, follows:

"Yuma has got to be more decent. The open and brazen running of houses of prostitution on your main street, where every person on the way to and from the trains must pass in full view, has got to be stopped and right away."

Thus spoke District Attorney J. L. B. Alexander to a business man from Yuma in a conversation which took place a few days since in the lobby of the Santa Rita hotel in Tucson.

"If the authorities whose duties it is to enforce the law," he continued, "will not take the matter up, I will. If this matter isn't attended to at once I'm coming down there some time on the 3 a. m. train with a bunch of United States marshals and arrest every woman and man found in those houses, and they will all be prosecuted under the United States law and sent on the Hill, no matter how respectable any of them may be."

At the cemetery the services will be led by Capt. W. B. Fenderson, who the musical program will consist of vocal selections by Mrs. James Harrington, assisted by a quartette.

It is planned to have the exercises at the cemetery come to an end so that the speaking may begin at 11 o'clock.

In the afternoon several teams will take the quartette and children with flowers to Evergreen cemetery, where appropriate services will be held. It is understood that the citizens of Lowell have prepared to take part in the afternoon exercises and many of them as imposing a display of the beautiful sentiment that leads all to give over this day in each year to honoring the soldier dead as those to be held at the local cemetery.

The school boy drum corps which will lead the old veterans in the parade will be one of the features of the occasion. The youngsters have practiced faithfully for the occasion, and have selected a very appropriate uniform. It consists of blue denim breeches, khaki pants and straw hats of the shape used in colonial times. The little fellows will no doubt attract attention from their minute-man appearance.

SPYRACY WITH A SECOND PERSON TO COMMIT A CRIME.

In case a conviction is secured the penalty provides for a fine of not more than $10,000, and imprisonment in a jail for a period not to exceed two years. The interview given the Yuma Enterprise by Mr. Alexander and which he yesterday confirmed, follows:

OLD TIMER GONE

A. Eyeslee Passes to Beyond After Short Illness of a Few Days.

APOPLEXY CAUSED DEATH OF BARBER.

Suddenly Stricken Little More Than Week Ago, Man Dies at Noon Yesterday — Had Been in Bisbee 20 Years.

The death of A. Eyeslee, which occurred at the Copper Queen hospital in this city yesterday at noon, marks the passing of one of Bisbee's oldest residents, as well as one of the characters of the old frontier days.

A. Eyeslee was born at Stettin, Germany, in 1842, leaving him 64 years of age at the time of his death. Coming to America while yet a young man, Eyeslee drifted to the great west in search of his fortune. Like many another he was attracted by the gold excitement of California, and for years made San Francisco his home. He came to Bisbee nearly twenty-three years ago and started at once to ply his trade as barber. The Eyeslee shop on Main street in this city has been a well-known tontorial resort among the earliest settlers in the camp.

In this little shop Eyeslee was able to amass a snug little fortune, which now goes to his wife and five children, all of whom reside in California.

At the death bed of the old man were two daughters, Mrs. Pitts of San Jose, Cal., and Mrs. Harrigan of Fresno. Both came to Bisbee at once upon learning of the illness of their father, and have been faithful watchers at his bedside since he was stricken.

On Sunday, May 20, Mr. Eyeslee was taken suddenly ill with what was supposed at that time to be a stroke of paralysis. He was at once removed to the Copper Queen hospital, where medical attendance could be obtained. For a few days the sick man seemed to rally and hopes were entertained for his recovery, but yesterday he suffered an apoplectic stroke immediately following a hearty lunch, and succumbed without scarcely a struggle.

He leaves a wife, two sons and a daughter in San Francisco, besides two daughters who are at the present time in Bisbee.

Immediately following his removal to the hospital, Mr. Eyeslee called for Attorney J. M. O'Connell and M. J. Cunningham, cashier of the Bank of Bisbee, with which institution he transacted his financial business, and a will was made, making Cunningham executor.

Besides the property on Main street where Eyeslee's shop stands, the dead man was possessed of considerable cash and some mining stock. It is understood that upon his request the latter has been disposed of since his illness overtook him.

Eyeslee often made the boast that the Main-street property he bought at a very low figure, it taking at that time nearly all his funds. It is a well-known fact today that the property is worth several thousand dollars, measured comparatively with other property in the immediate vicinity.

The remains have been prepared for shipment to Gilroy, California.

THROUGH LINE FROM EL PASO TO OCEAN IS NEW PLAN OF GREENE ROAD.

Extension of the Sierra Madre railroad through the mountains to a connection with the Southern Pacific extension, and a Pacific coast outlet is now the plans of the officials of the Rio Grande, Sierra Madre & Pacific railroad, as revealed in the latest operations, says the El Paso Herald.

Chief Engineer J. P. Hallihan, with a large engineering corps, has been surveying west of Casas Grandes for some time. Mr. Hallihan himself has made a trip through the mountains, and believes a suitable route can be found to give the Sierra Madre the desired outlet to the coast.

This proposed extension has no connection with the extension from Casas Grandes to Santa Tomas, on the Chihuahua & Pacific road, and this work will be carried on as fast as possible. The line has been surveyed for the entire distance, and the contract let for a part of the construction.

The work on the Pacific coast extension of the Sierra Madre will begin within a year it is said. The extension will open a country now untouched by any railroad, and will greatly enhance the commercial importance of the road by giving a coast outlet and connection with the Southern Pacific extension of the Yaqui road, and a through line from El Paso to the Pacific across Mexico.

TUCSON BOY STEALS RIDE BEHIND HAY WAGON AND IS CRUSHED TO DEATH.

A fatality which teamsters have long feared occurred Saturday forenoon when the seven-year old son of Guadalupe Urquides, stealing a ride under a hay wagon owned by Mayor L. H. Manning, of Tucson, fell beneath the wheels and met death in a horrible manner, says the Citizen.

Time and again small boys have been chased off wagons by teamsters who feared just such a fatality as occurred. They have invariably, however, declined to stay off the wagons, and as a result one boy now lies dead on a slab in Parker's morgue, with his head horribly crushed.

The sad accident was witnessed by a number of linemen who were working on Stone avenue and Fifth street, where the fatality occurred.

Seated upon the hay bales, the driver of the wagon was unaware that the little Urquides boy was stealing a ride beneath the wagon. Going along on Stone avenue the wagon struck a chuck hole, and the boy perched on an insecure seat, was jolted off the reach onto the ground.

He fell directly in the path of the heavy hind wheels. The lad gave one heart-rending cry and then one of the wheels of the wagon, carrying two tons of hay, passed over his head, splitting open the skull and allowing the brains to ooze out. Powerless to render any aid, the linemen were eye witnesses of the death of the boy.
